

David Hollan

Administrative Services Director

As Administrative Services Director, David Hollan will be responsible for human capital programs, including human resources, labor relations, and employee concerns activities affecting SRR.

Mr. Hollan has 25 years of progressive experience and leadership, providing corporate support to URS businesses that engage with the U.S. Department of Energy and the United Kingdom's Nuclear Decommissioning Authority.

Prior to his current position, Mr. Hollan was the Vice President of Human Resources for AECOM's Management Services Nuclear & Environment Strategic Business Unit where he was responsible for the development of strategic objectives and tactical execution of corporate leadership that included organization & talent development, communications, security, and human resources for domestic and international markets, since 2008.

Beginning in 1991, Mr. Hollan managed human resource functions at the Savannah River Site, and in 1997 he was integral in the business startup of Westinghouse Safety Management Solutions, now AECOM Professional Solutions, an engineering consulting firm of 500 employees operated out of Aiken, SC.

Mr. Hollan lives in Evans, GA with his wife and four children.

Education

- University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, Economics and Industrial Relations